THE GUARDS MUST BE CRAZY

I am writing in regards to your article "So, You're Going to Prison" (Issue #358). During a routine shakedown of my cell (I'm in jail for 48 months for possessing 6 marijuana plants) I was given a confiscation notice that "reading material which threatened the security of the institution" had been seized. That material was MAD #358.

D. A. Hittle
Eastern Oregon Correctional Institute Pendleton, OR

D.A. — We've always maintained that MAD is a good prison read! If it wasn't for repeat offenders, lifers and the boys on death row, we probably would've been out of business years ago! Sorry, D.A., but in this case we have to side with the guards. Clearly, if they let the prison article you mention through, and inmates started making toilet paper roses and hand knit toilet bowl cozies, it would only be a matter of time before they were scaling the walls and rioting in the Yard! (P.S. as a result of your letter, we're suspending plans to include a hacksaw in every issue of #365...the heat is on!) In the meantime, please give our regards to Slashy and Warden Baldwin! —Ed.

DUCK AND COVER

Kinko's patrons were aghast to find none other than MAD's own Duck Edwing on the cover of the copy store chain's exclusive magazine Home Worker. We were surprised as well, because with what we pay Duck we thought he was homeless!

HOW TO REACH US

Please Address Correspondence To: MAD, Dept. 364, 1700 Broadway, New York, New York 10019. MAD welcomes reader submissions. Manuscripts will not be returned or acknowledged, however, unless they are accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope!

MAD CELEBRITY SNAPS

Tim Allen whipping boy Richard Karn was gracious enough to pose for a picture with Carey Proctor of Pt. Orchard, WA and a copy of MAD! This earns Carey a big fat 3-year subscription to our fine publication. Boy! That's quite a HOME IMPROVEMENT! Get it? Fat!

NO MORE MR. ICE GUY

I did not read "Walt Disney Visits His Studio Today" from MAD #357, but I read the letter from Robert Frankel (MAD #361) in which he refers to unthawing Walt Disney or unthawing Walt Disney's ashes. In either case, the results would still be frozen, since to "unthaw" means to "not thaw".

Mark Isham
Elizabethtown, KY

Marky Mark — You're a thaw loser — just chill! —Ed.

PUT ANOTHER CATALOG ON THE FIRE

I have worked for Ikea going on 8 1/2 years now and was very happy to see that you finally did a spoof on us in issue #360 ("The IKRAPPA Catalogue"). I find this to be a very big compliment to us and feel like we have finally made it!

RedBarTX@aol.com

Red — You enjoyed it? Apparently, like many of the shelving units your company manufactures, you're missing a few screws! You may think this response is as flimsy as some of the end tables you sell, but it's a big letters page — somebody's gotta fill it! Thanks for writing! —Ed.

INQUIRY

Attention MAD subscribers! A few years ago, we started putting brown and then white wrappers on our magazines with jokes(?) on them. We now want a complete list of those wrappers with the issue number and what joke and/or visual gag is on each. The first person to send a complete list to our New York office (Attn: Amy Mavrikis) will receive a special MAD gift! Thank you!

A PAIR OF CHEWS

In "Redneck USA" (MAD #360), you showed a can of Skoal tobacco and ignorantly called it chewing tobacco. You city slickers should know that Skoal isn't chewing tobacco, it's snuff, which is cut finer and isn't chewed. Real chewing tobacco is cut longer and comes in a pouch.

Brandon Elmer

Brando — Snuff said! See ya at the mouth cancer clinic! —Ed.

MONROE DOCTORIN'

Monroe rules! Of course it would be cool if in one strip his mom started hitting on the black spy! She would do that...believe me.

DmanChaz@aol.com

Sunny D — All right! Your wish is our command. Here's a sneak peek at our new strip, "Spy Vs. Mom"! Enjoy! —Ed.

ALFRED E-MAIL

I was browsing through your July 1996 issue when I noticed the article "What if God was One of Us?" In the section where God is on the worst-dressed list, it mentioned fashion designer Gianni Versace. I just wanted to make a point that exactly one year later, Versace would be murdered outside his home in Florida.

Tyrant1@aol.com

Ty — And WE want to make the point that on the Letters Page of our December 1997 issue, we mention you, Tyrant1! Have a happy new year and don't forget to duck! —Ed.

COPULATION EXPLOSION

In issue #360 you had an article called "The MAD World of Sex." I didn't think this was appropriate because you might have younger readers who don't understand it.

Lucas Cummins
Frankfort, KY

Lucky Luc — You're half right! It's not our readers who don't understand, it's a good portion of our WRITERS who don't understand! In fact, this coming weekend, long-time MAD editor Nick Meglin is having "the talk" with writer Desmond Devlin.

"Uncle Nick" has props, charts and hand puppets — the whole nine yards! Trust us, you don't want to be there! —Ed.

ATTENTION SUBSCRIBERS!

MATH APPEAL

I have been a MAD fan ever since issue #340. I always read the letters page as soon as I get a new issue. After nearly two years of nothing better to do, I calculated a formula of how to get my letter published. The formula is as follows:

Issue # + nasty comment (nit-picking) = published letter hate-filled threat

Todd Dooley
Oswego, IL

Here's another formula that you might be interested in, Pythagoras boy: If  $n = \text{you}$ , then  $n = \text{Schmuck!}$  Go figure! —Ed.

BURSTING OUT OF YOUR NEWSSTANDS NOW!

The handwriting is on the wall. NBC knows it's just a matter of time before the Seinfeld gang takes their millions and goes home. And when they do, there goes the network's lock on Thursday night. And when Thursday night goes, NBC's number one rating is sure to follow. Soon, stock in its parent company, General Electric, plummets. And when General Electric, which manufactures everything from light bulbs to nuclear weapons goes belly up, our country will be left dark and defenseless, vulnerable to hostile nations all over the world! We can only hope that somewhere, hidden in a vault in Burbank, some slimy TV exec has devised...

ミューンカ片

In this show, targeted at the hip, urban audience, George Costanza's father (Jerry Stiller), leaves his wife, moves to Los Angeles and takes a job teaching Korean at a rough South Central High School. At first, cultures clash when Mr. Costanza bans hip-hop music from the school dance in favor of Tony Bennett. But when he befriends the leader of the Crips (French Prince of Bel-Air's Alfonso Ribeiro), the kids learn that he's funky, fresh, phat, dope and down — even though he has no idea what that means!

ARTIST: DREW FRIEDMAN WRITERS: JOE RAIOLA & DAVID SHAYNE

With Julia Louis-Dreyfus demanding two million dollars an episode, plus a diamond-encrusted toilet in her dressing room, the Peacock Network makes a bold move and casts pop music sensation Jewel as the "new" Elaine Benes. To ensure that viewers will accept such a radically different looking Elaine, the show's catchy theme song tells the story of her gruesome car wreck, horrible disfigurement and successful reconstructive plastic surgery. Playing to Jewel's strengths, NBC also makes a few "minor changes" in her character. Due to the accident, the "new" Elaine is no longer witty, outgoing and fun to be with, but is now depressively needy, introspective and spends most of her time trying to perfect her suicide note.

The good news is Michael Richards is back as the voice of Kramer in this new cartoon series in the subversive tradition of The Simpsons. The bad news is that due to his exorbitant salary, NBC must cut costs by having the show produced by a third-rate animation studio in Qandahar, Afghanistan. Rounding out the cast are international "stars" Ezekiel Shabidar, Achmel Barahahaha and Wendy Klein.

Newman, there's another one of those brown truck sleazeballs! Blast him!

Well, my UPS friend! It seems I have a "special delivery" for you! Ahaha-hahaha!

Wayne Knight reprises his role as the conniving and rotund Newman in television's first post office dramedy. In the series' two-hour pilot episode, Newman becomes a member of the ZIP Squad, an elite band of hard-nosed Postal Inspectors dedicated to "eliminating those damn efficient bastards at FedEx and UPS at any cost!" Costarring Ed Asner as "The Chief" and rapper Ice-T as "Jimmy-J," Newman's street-smart homeboy informant.

Seinfeld's most controversial guest character is back! In the pilot episode of this new sitcom, the obnoxious soup chef finally learns the terrible nickname everyone calls him behind his back — "The Soup Nazi." When his attempts to put an end to it fail, he decides to milk the Nazi label for everything it's worth! After studying up on the Third Reich and becoming an expert on the Fuhrer's favorite recipes, he changes the name of his shop to Heil Soup, and quadruples his already booming business by serving up Luftwaffe Lentil, Swastika Noodle Chowder and Gestapo Gazpacho.

Go to the end of the line, Dumkopf!

With NBC desperate for a show — any show — with the name “Seinfeld” in the title, the producers of Suddenly Susan rename their struggling sitcom. While technically not a Seinfeld spin-off, Suddenly Seinfeld at least has a character named Seinfeld — Jerry’s third cousin and Susan’s new husband, Howard Seinfeld (Bronson Pinchot). Viewers never actually see or even hear Jerry, but he and his wacky friends are constantly mentioned.

For NBC it’s cheap and easy: Assemble all of Seinfeld’s recurring and one-shot characters and cram them into a leftover set from the original show. The legendary diner frequented by the old gang is bought out by Jerry’s hapless immigrant ex-buddy, Babu. Among the story lines: Crazy Joe Davola stalks Uncle Leo! Poppie convinces George Steinbrenner (back view only) to hire him as the Yankees manager! The Woman With Man Hands accidentally feels up The Woman With Fabulous Breasts (Teri Hatcher)! Mulva marries The Boy In The Bubble! Milos The Tennis Pro and The Drake play Yahtzee with Jerry’s parents! Comedian Kenny Bania and ex-big leaguer Keith Hernandez vie for the affection of The Woman Who Invented The Puffy Pirate Shirt! NBC also has plans for a “spin-off spin-off” featuring every Seinfeld extra who ever had a non-speaking role or was seen briefly in the background.

At first glance, it seemed like this movie had it all: big stars, big action and a really, really big plane. We were certain that if there was going to be one flick that shined like a beacon amidst the bleak, black void of crappy summer films, this was sure to be it! Who would have guessed that the worst film of the summer would turn out to be the...

AIR FARCE ONE

These guys look suspicious, who cleared them?

They went through three security checks! First, the FBI...

You mean the bureau guys who tried to frame Richard Jewell and who STILL don't have a clue about the Olympic bomber?

...then the CIA checked them...

The intelligence people who had Soviet spy Aldrich Ames as one of their top agents for years?

...and finally, the Secret Service!

The bunch who let John Hinckley Jr. close enough to shoot President Reagan? I think this flight could be in A LOT of trouble!

This is a joint Russian/U.S. operation against your repressive, neo-fascist regime! General Radish, we're abducting you in the name of world peace!

How come when you kidnap one of us you're called "Heroes," but when we kidnap one of you we're called "Terrorists?"

Hey, what are you aiming at with your night vision scope?

None of your business! You got your night vision, and I've got mine!

Tonight we're honoring United States President Marshmallow for taking such unprecedented chances for his cause! Not only did he have the fearlessness to send in troops to capture a world menace, he also had the nerve to charge $500 a plate for this dinner, with proceeds going to his national campaign fund!

From now on, the United States will use its military might to pursue any leader who violates the freedom of his people!

Under his Presidency, the promise to promote human rights will become a reality!

As compared to the Clinton Presidency, where the promise to promote human rights became a fantasy!

In addition to the most efficient, up-to-date equipment of any plane in the world, Air Farce One also has all the creature comforts of the finest deluxe hotel suite!

Wow! It must have cost a fortune!

It did! But that was no problem — the government got the money by cutting out expensive programs like school lunches and medical insurance for kids!

Iraq seems to be acting up again! What should we do, sir?

Send in the air-craft carrier Nimitz NOW!

Don't you think it's terrific the way he can make snap decisions like that?

Terrific? Snap decisions put the lives of our military at risk!

So? It's a small price to pay to avoid those boring, angst-ridden deliberate decisions!

NEWT GINGRICH DID NOT SIT HERE!

Hello, White House?
This is the President! I'm calling you on a cellular phone from Air Force One! We're being hijacked over the Caucasus Mountains!

I just find that a little hard to believe!

I'm telling you that I'm the President! You've got to believe me!

Oh, I can believe that you're the President! I just can't believe that a cellular phone has a range of 8,000 miles! Mine stops working when I'm only three blocks away, not to mention going into a tunnel!

Miss, please connect me to the Vice President!

Why should she help you? She's already got your job!

Hello, technical support? I need some input here! I want to drain the fuel tanks and force the plane to land! But I don't know which wires to cut!

We're sorry, all of our technical support people are busy right now! If you're calling to short circuit the landing gear, press one! If you want to cut fuel gauge wires, press two...

Mr. President, you're alive! It's a miracle!

Not as much of a miracle as what you've all done — staying in this room for hours without anyone ever going to the toilet! At least I had the pod!

Thank you for flying Air Force One! Buh-bye, buh-bye, buh-bye, buh-bye...

You have choice! Release ze general or I vill shoot daughter!

Even though the thought of saving a lot in babysitting fees is an attractive option, I've decided to save her by releasing General Radish!

Hal! So much for your nation's resolve not to deal with terrorists!

Good God! The girl is my child!

Wasn't every hostage who was killed because of his policy of never negotiating with terrorists someone's child?

Yeah, they were someone's, but not his!

Get off my plane!
As a fanatic,
your moral code is shameful! As an actor, your Russian accent is even worse!

I

hadn't just done
that!

But he us from certain death!

That may be!
But couldn't
he have waited until I collected the passenger's headset first?

If, as last summer's blockbuster President of the United States,
I could fly a jet to safety and save the free world on Independence Day, you can do it this year!

Thanks for the vote of confidence, but we still have at least three more unbelievable crises
to go before this movie is over, not that you'd understand...

Roswell,

Sir, you must leave now, we're going down!

Only after my daughter, then my wife and then my wounded
Chief of Staff go!

But
why don't you go first?

Because as a Republican cost-cutting measure, I'm on standby!

It was me, your
'loyal' bodyguard
who was in cahoots with the terrorists!

That I could betray my own country?

I don't understand it!

No! That since all the terrorists are dead and there's no one left to expose you, why you revealed yourself as the traitor!

By this time
you want LOGICAL
explanations?
I'm sorry
I voted for you! You're a schmuck!

Oooh, bungee jumping! Daddy's cooler than I thought!

The good news is that the Rescue Plane has just landed...

...the bad news is that the President has just landed again...again...and again!

Americans are getting dumber with every generation. SAT scores are down. Fewer serious books are being published and, hell, if it weren't for the comic strip Nancy, nobody would be opening up a newspaper! But maybe there is no greater proof of just how far we've fallen in the intellectual department than the big increase in "helpful" instructions manufacturers feel compelled to put on their products. Not only do they now tell you to cut on the dotted line, they have to include a little picture of scissors! And don't you just love the envelopes that say, "Use a stamp. The Post Office will not deliver without postage"? Duh! And we fear all of this is just the beginning. How long will it be, brainiac, before you see these...

FRED DENBY WARMING UP FOR HIS NBA DEBUT TONIGHT WITH MICHAEL JORDAN AND COMPANY.

CHICAGO, IL, Oct. 10 — After proving in the Supreme Court that the Chicago Bulls basketball team practiced age discrimination by not allowing him to play on their team, 80-year-old Fred Denby will finally get to prove himself on the NBA court.

"My job tonight is to prevent a fast break," said an excited Denby, "and I know I can do it because I'm never going to leave the backcourt and run to the offensive boards. If I did that, I might get a heart attack." The spirited octogenarian added, "All I need is my sneakers, my jock strap and my Depends and I'll give 110%."

MARBLE-MOUTHED ANNOUNCER BLAMED FOR RIOT AT KENTUCKY DERBY

Scene at the payout window at Churchill Downs yesterday. The number four horse, "Lucky Dan," was the only winner. Many confused bettors thought otherwise.

CHURCHILL DOWNS. Kentucky, May 10 (Reuters) — Over one hundred racing fans received minor injuries yesterday when hyper-excited bettors stormed the payout windows immediately following the running of the Kentucky Derby. Virtually all of the fans thought they heard their horse announced as the winner of the prestigious race.

The head of the Kentucky National Guard stated today that the cause of the riot has been traced to track announcer Johnny Blodgett. Blodgett, who surfers from a severe speech impediment had only recently been hired to announce the races after the track lost a lawsuit seeking to bar Blodgett from the job due to his handicap.

"No one can understand the guy," one track official, who requested anonymity remarked. "But the law of the land said we couldn't discriminate against anyone for a physical defect. So when Blodgett applied, we had no choice but to give him the job. It was a time bomb waiting to happen and it happened yesterday."

SANDUSKY, Ohio, Nov. 1 (AP) — Fifty midget circus clowns suffocated to death during a performance last night when the door of their tiny clown car was blocked by a 250-pound so-called midget performer.

Circus authorities identified the overweight clown as John Jakes, aka Jolly Joe. Jakes had just joined the circus after a landmark court decision against weight and height discrimination that stated he could not be denied a job with little people because of his massive size.

"Yeah, the whole thing could have been avoided," claimed an unidentified sideshow geek who witnessed the tragedy, "had that fat freak not insisted on being the first one out of the car." Ambulances rushed to the scene

GROSS INCOMPETENCE DELAYS ROCKET LAUNCHING

Bumbling Technician has Trouble with Countdown

CAPE CANAVER-
AL, Fla., July 17 — The launching of the space shuttle Atlantis was postponed indefinitely yesterday after a bewildered NASA technician had trouble counting down backwards from 10.

Randy Grooms, a NASA space program specialist, has been blamed for the delay in the current space mission. Grooms joined NASA after a federal appeals court found in his favor in an I.Q. discrimination suit that ruled no one can be denied employment because of intelligence.

"Since he has difficulty in doing the countdown, the mission has been put on hold," said an exasperated NASA spokesman. But a defiant Grooms defended his actions. "I can count to 10, the right way. Like starting at one and going up to 10. But they want me to start at 10 and go back to one. That confuses me. I know what comes after five, but I'm not sure what comes before it. And I'm not going to take a chance with the lives of our astronauts until I'm damn sure."

Former astronaut turned senator, John Glenn, issued a statement blasting the court's

DEAD PERSON WINS JOB BACK IN LANDMARK DECISION

ACLU Applauds Decision as
"A Victory for the Non-Living."

NEW YORK CITY, NY Dec. 15 — In the first "death discrimination" case in the nation, the late Mrs. Ivy Bromide won her old job back, even though she has been deceased for two months.

In a close split decision, the Supreme Court ruled today that just because someone is no longer alive, that person should not be penalized. "Death," said Justice Clarence Thomas in his majority opinion, "is hard enough without penalizing the person any further."

Justice Thomas also noted that inasmuch as Mrs. Bromide had been an assistant principal of a New York City high school, efficiency was not an issue since being dead doesn't seem to make any difference in the performance of that particular job.

Reaction to the controversial decision was swift with Right-to-Lifers issuing a terse statement in which they declared that they would

A ROCKET FULL OF MIRACLES DEPT.

In the summer of 1997 the whole world was abuzz when an exploratory craft landed on Martian soil and began sending data back to Earth. But for the average person without an advanced degree in astronomy, it was difficult to understand what all this information meant. Since all of us here at MAD happen to have advanced degrees in astronomy, we thought we would help out all you ignorant laymen by explaining these...

The Pathfinder mission took 9,669 pictures of Mars in 30 days, or about half as many pictures as tabloid photographers took of John Kennedy Jr. in the same period.

The unusually high concentration of silicon found in Martian rocks is seen nowhere on Earth except on Sunset Blvd. in Los Angeles.

Since the Sojourner is operated by an Intel microchip, NASA engineers spend the vast majority of their workday on hold with tech support.

IMPORTANT LESSON MARS

The Martian surface is the exact shade of red that Dennis Rodman's hair was when he kicked that reporter in the 'nads.

The Sojourner travels at a top speed of 120 feet-per-hour, meaning it goes twice as fast as the average vehicle leaving a stadium parking lot after an NFL game.

NS LEARNED FROM THE PATHFINDER MISSION

ARTIST: TOM HACHTMAN

WRITER: ANDREW J. SCHWARTZBERG

With rocks named Yogi, Casper and Scooby-Doo, it would appear NASA scientists spend a lot more time watching the Cartoon Network than their computer screens.

The day after Pathfinder landed, its web site got millions of hits, proving that not everyone on the net is there to just look for nude photos of Drew Barrymore, Gillian Anderson and Alyssa Milano.

NASA spent about as much money on the Pathfinder mission as the Lakers did on Shaquille O'Neal, however the rover can shoot free throws with a much higher degree of accuracy than Shaq ever will.

Though scientists know that oceans existed on Mars millions of years ago, the rover's continuing search for a fossilized lifeguard chair has so far proved fruitless.

It is faster to get pictures developed on a planet 200 million miles away than it is at your local drug store.

two months!

Wow!
I
love
it!
Isn't this incredible television!

It's just what America wants to see! Fat people shaking their booty!

This could be the worst TV musical piece since that disaster a few years back...Cop Rock!

At least in *Cop
Rock* the dancers weren't sucked into each other's gravitational pull!

What a unique "concept!"
Droop is doing the "Time Warp" from Rocky Horror
and Meany is Priscilla, Queen of the Desert!

Look! And there's a third dance team!
wearing costumes
from the show ER!

Actually,
that's a real emergency team — just in case Droop and Meany collide!

Viewers voted this the second most popular moment
of the show!

What's the most popular moment?

When they finally stop!

I just love to shake my groove
thing!

Just keep it up, babe! This number is likely to win
us an award!
An Emmy?

More likely —
"Best Sow & Boar" at the Ohio State Fair
and Livestock Show!

Whew!
I sure am one hot mamal

We're running long! Meany, stop dancing and break into a melody!

Why?

Because everyone knows the show ain't over till the fat lady sings!
